

BE A REASONABLE PERSON

Our law does not set the standards of the reasonable person at too high a level.

"In all cases where there is a contravention of an act or a regulation, whether directly or indirectly, the Owner and/or Manager is held prima Facie liable. But, if he can show that he gave instructions to carry out these acts and regulations properly and that he interested himself in the matter to see that his orders were properly carried out, then he is not to be held responsible".

Our courts have laid down broad guidelines which can be followed to determine the foreseeability of harm. Consider the following:

"A reasonable person is not expected to foresee remote possibilities. He/she is also not expected to foresee reckless conduct on the part of another and to take precautions against such conduct".

"After the event even a fool is wise but it is not the hind sight of a fool, it is the foresight of a reasonable man which alone can determine responsibility."
